Joe Cottle Getting in Some Fine Work.

IS HUSTLING FOR WELLS

WANTS RESOLUTION RECONSID-

anything else, are going to make an effort at the joint meeting of the Federation and the Building Trades coun- be made and a general good time encil next Friday night to rescind the joyed by all present. resolution passed some time ago condemning the candidacy of Governor Wells. Joe Cottle, president of the Retail Clerks' association, is the prime mover in the enterprise.

For some days, Joe, who worked the clerks for all they were worth in the last city campaign, has been doing a bit of gum shoe work in the interest of Governor Wells. The fact that Governor Wells vetoed the last eight-hour law doesn't cut any ice with Joseph so long as the executive is a candidate for re-election.

The meeting of next Friday night is ostensibly for the purpose of hearing a report from the committee that had charge of the Labor day clam bake at Lagoon in September. As a matter of fact, an effort is going to be made to pack this gathering in the interest of Governor Wells. Mr. Cottle, as head pusher in the Clerks' association, has not, it is reported, attended a meeting of the Federated Trades for many moons up to last Friday night.

H. J. Walk has not resigned as chairman of the Democratic committee of the Fifteenth district. Mr. Walk is still in the harness and is doing yeoman service for the party. The announcement that he had resigned and that T. F. Griffith had been appointed in his place did him an injustice.

The latest news from Major R. W. Young, who is still at Manila, is of the party with the friends here.

Some of the men connected with the Federated Trades are somewhat amused over the sudden interest taken by the clerks. The latter are very much exercised, on the surface, over the clam bake report. It is stated on excellent authority, however, that only one member of the clerk outfit attended the festivities at Lagoon. Of the 100 tickets assigned to them to be sold, every one was returned. Indeed, it is declared that they made no efforts to sell any. ll any. It is perfectly natural, therefore, that

It is perfectly natural, therefore, that the keen interest now manifested by Cottle et al. should be viewed with suspicion, especially as it is an open secret that they are planning an endorsement of the man who has proved himself one of organized labor's enemies in this state.

The friends of labor, the men who are really striving to maintain the organizations on a high plane, are preparing to sit down on Mr. Cotttle with some strenuousness. At the last meeting a delegate from the Stonecutters' union remarked: "Mr. Cottle seems mighty hard of understanding." If the men who passed the resolution of condemnation have their way next Friday night it will be impossible for Joseph not to understand that he has been hummed and burned and burned and burned and burned and burned. understand that he has been bumped and bumped hard.

DEBATE WASN'T HELD.

Idaho Orator Failed to Meet Edler.

A debate between A. B. Edler and George Elwood of Idaho, as advertised, drew a crowd far beyond the capacity of the hall at 68 Main street, and as a consequence long before the time for opening men and women were obliged to turn back. But owing to the absence of Mr. Edwards no debate took place. Mr. Crane, a returned soldier from the Philippines, by request, spoke at length upon scientific practical socialism. Mrs. Charles Steward, Mr. Douglas and Mr. South, the latter particularly, displayed his genious and delivery in conveying his ideas of that ideal form of socialism as Mr. Belamy so ably gave to the world in the form of "Looking Rackward".

BRYAN IS GAINING.

Edward D. Woodruff Thinks Race

Edward D. Woodruff of the firm o Brown, Terry & Woodruff, returned yesterday from a trip to his oid home in northern Illinois. Although an ardent Republican, Mr. Woodruff said yesterday that he found the sentiment in favor of Bryan was growing. "I believe McKinley will be elected," Mr. Woodruff continued, "but he is going to have a mighty close fight.
"Bryan, in my judgment, will get more votes in the east this year than he received in 1896. There is considerable dissatusfaction among the workable dissatisfaction among the working people and many of them will vote for a change in conditions. It was the same feeling of dissatisfaction that elected Cleveland the first time, and it may be strong enough to give Bryan a very large following."

or, is telling an amusing story on her husband. The joke was perpetrated by their small son, Grant. The other day at school, the boy was being put through his paces in arithmetic.

"Now, Grant," said the teacher, "suppose your father should give your mother $7 on one day and $2 the next. What would your mother have?"

"She'd have a fit," replied Fox, jr., to the great amusement of the teacher and the school. The story was so good that when it reached Mrs. Fox she couldn't help repeating it.

With a High Hand.

Then, in the hope of securing the rescinding of the Wells resolution, he turned up with eight co-laborers, the nine being the full strength to which the clerks are entitled. An effort was made at this meeting to spring the reconsideration, but the real frien of labor who were there prevented it. Now the second effort is to be made and Joe may be depended upon to run things with a high hand if the opportunity offers.

CLEANING OUT RESERVOIR.—To-day Waterworks Superintendent Hines will put a force of men at work to clean out the new reservoir at the head of First South street, which, since it was cleaned out for the first time on Sept. 29 has accumulated, as might be expected, a large amount of green growth commonly found in stored water. The superintendent terms the reservoir a sewer, and contends that it will be impossible to protect the water in its purity without an iron roof over the vast space. From twelve to fifteen hours are required to empty the cement-lined hole and probably it will take a week to refill it to the level expected for adequate fire protection.

berday afternoon at the bank of Chairman Dooly to award the contract for grading down the street in front of and ap proaching the reservoir at the corner of First South and Thirteenth East streets. The lowest bid, that of Kiefer & Rush at 28 cents a cubic yard, was accepted and the contract awarded accordingly. The engineer's profile of the grade ap proved by the city council calls for the excavation of about 3,000 yards of earth but it is likely that about 2,000 yard more of excavating will be done in order to make a better street. On account of having encountered wet graund in the extension of a sewer lateral on East Fourth South street, ten days more time was granted to A. G. Giauque in which to complete his contract.
